

Manhood Journey – January 1, 2016 – December 31, 2016

Manhood Journey helps fathers build the next generation of godly men

Year In Review

- Manhood Journey serves over 6,000 fathers and sons through the program
- Our ministry dinner featured high profile keynote speakers – Kentucky Governor Matt Bevin and Trail Life CEO Mark Hancock
- Hired first full-time employee (Exec Director)
- Heart of Womanhood agreement finalized
- Growth & Development Committee engagement is strong with talented committee members
- Increased ministry exposure (Family Life, Family Talk, Michael Delgiorno show in Nashville)
- Trail Life event ($1,111 in sales)
- Solid Working Upstream event
- Nashville ambassador (Michael Delgiorno)
- New website launched (October)

The year of 2016 saw new growth and our first attempt to bring on key staff to accelerate our mission. We cemented ministry partnerships, launched new content, and embarking on additional fundraising efforts. We formally solicited grants for the first time, with solid success.

Fundraising success

We closed the year with more than 110 donors who collectively contributed more than $153,000. Most of the new donors came during our December “Working Upstream” event.

Group details

Our core product are small group Bible studies. This year, we added “1on1” studies to our mix. These are used by fathers, pastors, or Trail Life Troop leaders. Normally, a Manhood Journey small group hosts 7 dads and 8 boys.

Growth

In 2016 about 3,000 new fathers and sons began using our resources. About 100 new groups formed across the USA and in several foreign countries. We expanded into new US states in 2016, taking us now into 47 states. The individuals who downloaded our content came from 250 different churches.
